TO THE
K I N G S
MOST EXCELLENT
MAIESTIE.

M O V E R A I G N E,

when upon just grounds (as I humbly conceive, and am confident) I appealed from Parties and Adversaries to your Sacred Majestie for justice in so waughty a cause, as here is presented before you: I thought long ere this to have had the happines, to have presented both an humble Petition, and Apologie to my Appeal to your Majestie, in mine onne person. But two causes especiallie hindred mee: the one, Gods hand of visitation in this City, which continuing so long and great, I durst not make my approach to the Court, and chiefly to Your Majesties Sacred Person, least I might give offence: the other (and which of the twaine is much more perillous to my selfe) the Pursuivants continuall watch about my dore, threatening to catch me.

me, and make mee fast, or run my Countrey (as he saith) so as I cannot passe in or out, without present danger. And I confess I have smal list to come into that Lions denne. Quia me vestigia terret: not that I am afraid of any such terror, as not if conscious to my selfe of any such crime as they lay to my charge; but (as the Apostle said in the like case) If I bee an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to dye; but if there be none of those things whereof they accuse me (as matter of sedition) no man may deliver mee unto them: I appeale unto Cesar. And blessed bee God, that I have such a Christian Cesar to appeale unto. Neither yet have I neglected what possible, or probable meane I could use in Court (being an old outcast Courtier, worn out of all favour and friends there) for the conveying of my said Apologie to your Maiestie but in vaine. So as being now out of all hope of acquainting your Maiestie with so great a cause, by that way and meanes as I desired: I am at length compelled to give forth copies, in hope at least, that some well minded man, or noble Sparke, may upon the sight thereof (considering how nearely it concerneth the peace, safety, welfare, and honor of your Maiestie, and Kingdome) bee inflamed with so much zeale to your Maiestie, as overcomming all cowardlie feares, to dare to doe you so much worthie service, in bringing a Copie to your Maiesties hand, that so you may therein read the many and great disafuers and dangers, where into this your Kingdome is in a precipitancie of being ingulfed, & accordingly in your Princely Prudence provide a timely remedie, before it be past hope. And the rather conceived I this way so the more necessarie, that comming haply into the hands of some of your wise and Sage Counsellors, Dayds friends, they might be a meane not onely only to bring it to your hands, but the more to ingage your Maiestie to the perusal of it; considering how many would bee readie to ease your Maiestie of such a commoditie: And now, my Gracious Soveraigne, as I have ever bent my chiefe Studies to your Maiestie the best and faithfulest service I possibly could: so I am persuaded I could not in all my life have had a fairer and fitter opportunitie to expresse my fidelitie to your Maiestie then now, in a case so important, as if your Maiestie shall but take sound notice of it, it may prove the happiest service, that ever a poore subiect could doe to his Prince and Countrey. Nor am I ignorant, how busie many would be to divert your Maiestie from the Consideration of such matters, as this; as if the great affaires of a Kingdome pertained not to the King, but that hee might take his pleasure, and leave the care of his Kingdome to others. But my Lord the King is wise, as an Angell of God, considering whose vicegerent he is, and before whose awfull Tribunall he must give a strict account, how he hath manna ged so waightie a charge of so many soules committed to his trust. Againe, what censures may I expect of them, who cannot indure to have their deeds brought to the open light? They will be readie to charge me with Popularity, Faction, Sedition, and what not, and all for thus bringing their actions upon the open stage. But first, they will (I hope) excuse me, when they shall reflect upon themselves, and consider in cold blood how they have provoked mee, by their calling mee forth upon the stage, and by their strange molesting, and prosecuting of me, as if I were a felon, or a traitor: and secondly, for as much as they declare their deeds, as Sodome, and hide them not, and with a high hand maintaine them so, which is the highest pitch of all impicity: can they with any any reason blame me, for divulging their practises, which they shame not to pester your Kingdome, and oppresse your good people withall, who therefore have need publickly to be warned of them, least they be seduced by them?

But not to detaine your Majestic longer, bee pleased to read over this my Apologie of Appelte to your Majestic, that your Majestic may both discerne the depth of the whole businesse, and may be pleased thereupon to rescue your old servant out of those troubles, which hee suffereth for discharging a good conscience towards God, and your Majestic. Now the Lord give you understanding in all things.

Your Majesties loyall subject, and fafhull servant

Henry Burton.

Most Excellent Majestie,

The humble Appeal of me Henry Burton Clerke, from the proceedings lately made in the name of some Comissioners, for causes Ecclesiastical against me together with an humble Apology of the said Appeal.

THE occasion of my Appeal was upon the reading of certaine Articles unto me by the Register of the Court before Dr. Duke and by his appointment, who there upon rendering to me the said Henry Burton an Oath to answere to the said Articles, I replied in these words, or to the like effect. I humbly Appelle to the Kings Majestie my Soveraigne and Patron, as my Judge in this cause, before whom I shalbe both a defendant and a complainants; for I hold it unseemly, that they who are my Adversaries, should be my Judges.

Now the reasons and grounds of this my Appeal are these following: First, the generall matter of the Articles chargeth me with seditious preaching; more particularly objecting unto me my Sermons, which I preached to my flock on the 5th of Nouember last, upon this text of Scripture, Pro. 24.21.22. My Son feare then the Lord, and the King, and meddle not with them that are given to change. For their calamity shall rise suddenly, and who knoweth the ^Yuine of them both? And in the Sermons sundry specialties, and those chiefly concerning diverse Innovations, whitch my text did naturally lead me to speake of, and to reprove, to the end that my Parishioners might be admonished to beware of them, in case they should ever come to be obtruded upon them; as namely, these Innovations in the Booke of Common Prayer: First in the Collect for the Queen and royll Progeny these words are put out in the later Editions: Father of thyne Elect, and of thyne Seed: as if they would blotte out the King, Queen and the royll Progeny out of the number of Gods elect. Secondly, in the Epistle for the Sunday before Easter, they have put out IN, and made it AT the name of Jesus every knee shal ~~bow~~. Which alteration is directly against the Act of Parliament. The second booke wherid I showed a notorious alteration, was that, ordered by Parliament to be read on the 5th of Nouember, in the First Collect or Thanksgiving for the happy deliverance of his Majestie, the Queen, the Prince, and the States of Parliament. For in the former booke it is thus said. Give thanks unto the Lord, for he hath done this for us. And in the new booke it is thus said. Give thanks unto the Lord, for he hath done this for us.

christian Sect, which say of Ierusalem, Dowe with it Dowe with it even to the ground. But in the new book printed 1635. it is thus: Infatuato thir Counsell, and root out that Babylonish and Antichristian Sect OF THEM, which say of Ierusalem &c. Againe in the old booke it is said: And to that end strengthen the hands of our gracious King, the Nobles and Magistrates of the Land with judgement and justice to cure of these workers of iniquity, whose Religion is Rebellion, whose Faith is Faction &c. But in the new book they have altered it thus: And to that end strengthen the hands of our gracious King, the Nobles, and Magistrates of the Land with judgement and justice to cure of THESE workers of iniquity, WHO TURNE RELIGION INTO REBELLION, AND FAITH INTO FACTION. ed yd ydness ed lewolle godis
The third Booke, wherein they have made many alterations, is the Fast-Book set forth by your Majesties Authority in the first yeaire of your Raigne, and which your Majestie in your late Proclamation commanded to be reprinted and published and read in Churches at this Fast: Yet notwithstanding we find these alterations in the last impression this yeaire in the first Collect these words are expunged: Thou hast delivered us from Superstition and Idolatry, wherein wee were utterly drowned, and hast brought vs into the most cleare and confortable light of thy blessed word, by the which we are taught how to serve and honour thee, and how to live orderly with our neighbours in truth and verity.
Also they have left out in three severall prayers the mention of the Lady Elizabeth your Majesties only Sister, and her issue: Also the prayer for the Navy, and the

¶ The humble Appell of me Henry Burton.

the prayer for seasonable weather. And a whole Collect begining thus. It had been best for us &c. Also in the last page. Order for the Fast, are these words left out. To avoyd the inconveniencie that may grow by the abuse of Fasting, some esteeming it a meritorious worke, others a good worke, and of it selfe acceptable to God, without due regard of the end &c. And a whole page left out. Againe, they charge me that I spake against altering of Communion Tables into Altars, and against bowing unto them, and against setting up of Crucis-ties over them, and against saying a second Service at the High Altar at the end of the Chancel, whence the people cannot heare, especially in greater Churches, and against putting downe of Sermons in the afternoones upp the Lords dayes, and in stead thereof nothing allowed, but Catechising by bare Question and Answer out of the Common Prayer Booke, without expounding the Principles of Religion layd downe in the Creed, ten Commandements, and the Lords Prayer, so that the people and youthes especially are left in their ignorance. Also they charged me for saying, that Ministers might not safely preach of the Doctrines of Grace and Salvacion, and against the Arminians without being troubled for it. Also, that Ministers in Norfolke and Suffolke were suspended from their Ministry and meanes, for not conforming to new rites and Ceremonies imposed upon them contrary to the Law of the Land. These things, with sundry other of like nature, were objected against me in the said Articles, which because a Copy cannot be procuted from the Registers office, I cannot so punctually set downe; but referre unto the Articles themselves, remaining with the

the Register of the High Commission: All which Innovations expressed, being found by evident proofe to be thos true, contrary to the Lawes and Statutes of the Realme, the established Doctrine and Discipline of the Church of England, your Maiesties Declarations and Proclamations; and many of them of very dangerous consequence, tending to iustify and extenuate notorious treasons and traitors, advance and usher in Popery, Superstition and Idolatry, and giving generall distaste to all your Majesties loyall and faifull Subjects; who here upon grow iealous of some dangerous plot now in agitation by these Innovators, to under-mine and overthrow both our Religion & good Lawes; yet my mentioning of them in my Sermons meerly out of loyalty and duty to your Maiesly upon that solemn day for which they were most proper, to warne my flocke to take heed of such Innovations; as whereby Popery and Superstition doe not only craftily creep & steale in upon us, but is haled in with head and shou-lers, is charged upon me as Sedition: Here then let your Maiesly be pleased to iudge whither this be matter of Sedition, as for which I should be suspended from my Ministry and meane, and openly defamed as a seditious person, As if a Shepherd admonishing his sheep of the danger of the wolfe, or a watchman the City of the approach of the enemy, or a faithfull and vigilant Servant to his Prince and Country, descryng Cunning traitors, who under a colour of friendship and fidelity to the King and State doe practise the overthrow of both, should therefore upon the outcye of the wolfe, or the complaint of the enemy, or the recrimination of the Traitors, be adiuged and condemned of Sedition, for discharging that duty, which botli God; and his word, and the soules of Gods people require of him. Thus much of the matter of the Articles, upon the very resoltancy whereof I was moved to Appeal, as aforesayd.

Againe, for the further illustration of the iust cause of my Appeal, I except against the incompetancy of those Judges, who plainly appeare to be both parties in the cause, and Adversaries to my person for the cause sake, and therefore both by the Common, Civil, and Canon Law, yea by the very Lawes of God and Nature, which prohibit any man to be a iudge in his owne cause, especially when the party is an euemy to him, that is to be iudged by him; and therefore by the Lawes of God and man I have iust cause of Appeal from them unto your Royall Maiesy. Where in the first place, I distinguishe and put a maine difference, between those Honorable Nobles, Judges, Counsellors of State, and other Lay persons of the High Commission; whom I except not against, but mention with all Honorable and due respect, and between all those Prelates, who are Innovators (and ex nomine as they are Innovators onely) together with all those that have a neare relation unto them, and dependance upon them, as bearing office under them, and hoping for grace and preferment by them, which are the usuall body of the Court, determining all causes brought before them.

First, that these against whom I except, are parties, thus I prove; because the Innovations which I charge the Innovators with, are both done by them, or by their Officers, and also they appeare in the cause, as Patrons to Defend and maintaine the same against me; so as upon the very reading of the said Articles I could not but presently apprehend, that the laying of these things to my charge by way of recrimination, did professedly ingage them parties in the cause. 2:11:73

Secondly, because they are my Adversaries in the Cause, that this is soe I prove as followeth. First, because they are Adversaries to those truthes delivered by me, and charged by them as matter of Sedition against me, which notwithstanding I am ready to maintaine against them with my life, although I never so much as once dreamed, that impiety and impudency it selfe in such a Christian State as this is, and under such a gracious Prince, durst ever thus publickely have called me in question, and that upon the open stage, not only for the manifest trath of those notorious and audacious Innovations contrary to the Law, but also (and which I can never sufficiently admire) that these things shoulde be obiected against me, which I preached upon the foresaid text and day, alledged in the said Articles. My Sonne feare thou the Lord, and the King, &c. Wherein, according to my duty, and the text, I so much urged and pressed all maner of obedience and service to God, and to the King (as all those who heard me can testify)earnestly admonishing Gods people and the Kings Subiects to beware, and not to meddle with such Innovators, (as according to my text) are enemies of God and of the King, and divide between the King and his people.

Secondly, they against whom I except, as aforesaid, are the Adversaries, in that they usurpe such a title of High Jurisdiction, as cannot consist with that title of Jurisdiction, which the Law of the Land hath annexed to

to your Imperiall Crowne, from whence all maner of Ecclesiasticall Iurisdiction what soever hath its immediate and sole dependance and derivation, as appeareth by the Statute of 26. H.8. c.1.37. H.8. c.17.1. Ed.6. c.3.1. Eliz. c.1. and 1. Iac. c.25. which repealed Queen Maries Act. of repeale of the said Statute of Ed.6. c.2. whereby the same Statute standeth now in force. And, the said Statute of 1. Eliz. c.1. uniting all manner of Ecclesiasticall Iurisdiction whatsoever unto the Imperiall Crowne of this Realme, enacteth the Oath of Supremacy and Allegiance to you to that very end, and purpose, that none should presume to exercise any Ecclesiasticall Iurisdiction within this Realme, but by vertue of the Kings Letters Patents, and in the Kings Maiesties name and right: notwithstanding these men against whom I except, as aforesaid, haveing all of them severally often solemnly taken the said Oath of Supremacy and Allegiance, & being undoubtedly bound thereby, doe continually exercise their Episcopall Iurisdiction without any such Letters Patents of your Maiesty, or your Progenitors in their owne names and rights only, and not in your Maiesties name and right, to the manifest breach of their Oathes aforesaid, and to the manifest usurpation of your Maiesties right, and in high contempt of your Majesty contrary to your Maiesties peace, your Crowne, and dignity. And therefore under your Maiesties royll favour I accound all such my Adversaries, and so in competent Judges of my cause aforesaid. The rather, because this very Act, which they thus notoriously transgresse, is the ground whereupon their Commission in causes Ecclesiasticall is erected, and that principally for for the better observation of the said Act, and the punishment of all Delinquents against it, as appeares by all the Commissions Ecclesiasticall into which this clause of the Statute is inserted. Now if these men thus dayly infringe this Act themselves, and soe abuse that very power and Commission by which they now claime to be my Judges, in affront of your Majesties royall Iurisdiction, what indifferent justice I may expect from them, I humbly referre unto your Majesties just and royall consideration.

Thirdly, they who are Adversaries of God and of the King, are my Adversaries. But all Innovators either in matters of Religion, or of the Common weale, are Adversaries of God, and of the King: therefore they are my Adversaries. The first Proposition nec good Christian, or loyall Subject will deny, but that the Adversaries of God, and of the King, are his Adversaries. And for the other Proposition, the text proveth it: for Innovators are there opposed to the feare of the Lord, and of the King. And those men against whom I have excepted, as aforesaid, either are the Innovators themselves, or chiefe Authors, Abbetters, or Countenauncers of those Innovations; and therefore they are my Adversaries, and so incompetent Judges of my Cause.

Fourthly, they are my Adversaries for this reason of argument. They which are Christs enemies, are my enemies. But these are Christs enemies: therefore my enemies. That they are Christs enemies, I prove. They who oppose the word of God in the Ministry of it, in stopping the mouthes of Gods Ministers and persecuting of them without and against all Law, are Christs enemies.

enemies. But these doe so? Therefore &c. That they doe so is cleare by their practise, which will abundantly appeare upon due examination.

Firstly, they who are the Kings enemies, are my enemies. But these Innovators, by overturning the State of Religion, in bringing in their new Superstitious rites and Ceremonies, whereby both God is justly incensed to wrath against the Land, and the peace of the same is disturbed, are the Kings enemies. Therefore they are my enemies. They are the Kings enemies, that openly and affrontingly with a high hand and shamelesse forehead transgresse and oppose his Majesty royall Lawes, Proclamations and Declarations against all Innovations in matters of Religion &c. And thereby to disturbe the peace of his Majesties Kingdome, and weaken the State thereof distracting the peoples hearts, by making them both to feare their present oppressions especially upon their Consciences; and to feare the utter subversion of the true Religion by your Majesties Lawes established amongst us. Again, they who with all their might and maine persecute and oppresse those faithfull, loyall Subjects, Ministers and people who most plead and stand for his Majesties just and royall Prerogative in Causes Ecclesiastical; his Lawes, Declarations, Proclamations, and the established Doctrine and Religion of Christ in the Church of England; and most oppose all Innovations, and enemies to them, must needs be the Kings enemies. But thus do I whole from whom I Appeal. Therefore they are the Kings enemies, and so myne. This suffice to prove those my Adversaries, and so incompetent Judges of me and of my Cause.

20 MARCH

Finally,

Finally, I have just cause to Appeale from those Commissioners excepted agaist unto your Royall Majesty, for their illegality, which I have observed in their Proceedings partly in their usual practise, and partly in this present cause. First, for their usual practise, and that in administering the Oath, which they terme Ex officio, in which they transgresse in these particulars.
First, in inforcing the same upon men before any Copy given them of the Libel or Articles exhibited against them, yea for the most part before any Articles drawne, upon their very first appearance: whereas in all other your Majesties Courts of Justice, noe Oath is either exacted or administred, till after a Copy of the Information or Bill delivered to the party and his answere thereunto drawne up and ingrossed by advise of counsell upon the putting in of his Answere into the Court and not before: which as it is contrary to the very Commission it selfe, which expressly limits them to administer Oathes in such manner and suuit as is used in the Chauncery before the Masters thereof, where no man is forced to take an Oath, till the putting in of his Answere to the Bill on Plaintiff against him: So as it deprives him of the use and benefit of Law, by way of demurrer unto the Articles, if there be occasions; no party being in forced, either in Star-chamber, or any other Court of Justice in the Realme, to take answere, where there is just cause of Demurrer, but puts in a De-murrer by advise of counsell; without any Oath at all.
And his so taking of a rash Oath, is directly against the 39 Article of our Religion: Of a Christians mans Oath:
In these words: As we confess that vaine and rash swearing is forbidden Christian men &c. So we judge, that Christian

Christian Religion doth not prohibit, but that a man may swear when the Magistrate requireth in a cause of faith, and charity, so it be done according to the Prophets teaching justice, judgement and truth: Now such swearing to what a man knoweth not, is vaine and rash. It is also against fayth and charity, when the Oath is extended to accuse a mans selfe, or his neighbour unlawfully. Secondly in makeing the Oath which they administer, an usuall snare to those which take it. For although it be pretended, that thereby they are bound to answere to Articles in Court against them no further then the Law of the Land bynds them, yet being taken, they press it upon the mans conscience to answere in those things, which neither Law nor conscience bynds him unto. And in case he shall except against any Article, as not bound by Law to answere it, then they take it pro confesso, and so (although it be for accusing himselfe, or others, wherein he ought not, being a breach of charity and of that Maxime, Nemo tenetur prodere seipsum: and contrary to all Lawes of God and man) they illegally proceed to Sentence without any just or further proofe of the things objected.

Moreover, their proceeding is illegall, in that the Deponent is not permitted to have a Copy of the Articles against him, and to answere them by the advise of counsell, as in all other Courts of Justice within the Kingdome hath ever been used, but must make a sudaine answere without advise of counsell, wherein men commonly through ignorance of the Law, ambiguity of certaine termes, and captious Interrogatories, are inforced to insnare themselves even in cases where they are Innocent.

Besides all this, after their first Articles, whereby they often draw men unto the Oath, when they see they cannot have the advantage, of them, thereby, they put in Additionals, and Additionals upon Additionals contrary to the course of Justice in all other your Majesties Courts within the Realme, which admitt of no Addition to the first Bill, Indictment, or Information exhibited, after answere given to it, least causes should be infinitely protracted, and men continually vexed, whereby many of your Subjects are thereto intolerably grieved and oppressed, their causes protracted, expenses multiplied, and so never given over or dismissed the Court, till they have brought them into their lurch. And in fine, their imposing of fines, and imprisoning in such cases and for such matters, as they neither may nor ought to doe by Law. Thus for their illegalities in their usuall proceedings.

the High Preist with the Elders, and Tertullus their Advocate, that they had found him a pestilent fellow, and a mover of Sedition among all the Jewes throughout the world, and a Ring-leader of the Se^t of the Nazarens (Act 24. 5.) they did noe convert him before them in their Ecclesiasticall Confistory, but before Fælix the Governiour a temporall Magistrate, knowing well, that Sedition was not an Ecclesiasticall, but a Civill offence, of which Paul there purged himselfe, without being put to any Ex officio Oath, putting them to prove the crime objected by witnesses, saying, Neither can they prove the things, whereof they now accuse me: as I presume my Accusers likewise cannot doe in any Court of Justice against me. Since therefore they are soe unjust as to question and Article against me for Sedition, of which they have no cognisance, I conceive it to be a gravamen, and so a just cause of Appeale from them.

First, in the manner of their proceeding against me, which hath been very exorbitant, illegall, and extraordinary, in these particulars- First, in serving me with a Citation to appeare only before one single Commissioner at his private house, when and where there was not then, nor ever hath been heretofore any High Commission kept; whereas all appearance are to be made in Court; and there tendering me Articles and an Oath to answere to them, contrary to the Law, and their owne usuall course.

Secondly in excluding my neighbours and friends that accompagned me thither, out of the house, that they might not heare, or see what was done, and tendering me both the Articles and the Oath in a private nowhere Dr. Decke and the Register only were present;

Whereas all Courts of Justice ought to be publicke, that all that will may see and know their proceedings, in them, and not in a corner. ^{2. 2d. to the 10th.} Thirdly intendering me an Ex officio Oath, to answere and accuse my selfe, in a matter of Sedition; (which if true) might call not only, my reputation, but also my life & liberty into question; whereas Whitgift Arch-bishop of Canterbury in the Conference at Hampton Court, printed by Authority, there publickly averted, that in matter of life, liberty or scandall, it is not the course of that Court to require any such Oath, or to in-force any man that hath taken the Oath, to answere to any such Articles. And Paul himselfe, when he was accused for Sedition by Ananias the High Preist & Tertullus, was neither required nor intorced to take any such Oath, as appeares by Act. 25. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. Fourthly, in that they would inforce me to answere upon Oath, and bring in a Copy of what I publickly preached in my Parish Church, which I conceive I am not bound by the Law of God or man to doe, nor ought they to require. For (John the 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23.) When the High Preist asked Iesus (being convented before him) of his Disciples, and of his Doctrine: Iesus answered him, saying. I speake openly to the world, Never taught in the Synagogue and in the Temple, whether the Jews alwayes resort, and in secret have I said nothing. Why askest thou me? Aske them which heard me what I have said unto them. Behold they know what I said. And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by, strooke Iesus with the palme of his hand, saying. Answerest thou the High Preist so? Iesus answered him: If I have spoken evil, beare witness of the evil, but if well, why smitest thou me?

210 . The humble Appeal of me Henry Burton.

me? A plaine testimony from our Saviours owne Doctrine and Example (which no man can condemne as unjust or illegall) that no Minister ought to be put so much as to give an answere, much lesse a Copy of what he publickly preached in the Church, and that upon Oath to prejudice or accuse himselfe thereby, but what ever he delivered, ought to be proved by witnesses, that heard him: and the High Preist being satisfied with this answere of our Saviour, I hope no High Commissioner, but ought to have rested satisfied with the like from me, though as yet they still proceed to press me to an Oath.

Fistly, in calling a Private Commission out of Termes, in or neare Dr. Duckes private Chamber at Doctors Commons, and no publick Court, and there proceeding to suspend me in my absence, under pretence of a contempt in not appearing before them, when as first I had no lawfull Citation under Seale then and there to appear. Secondly no sufficient legall notice of the time and place of the said Commissioners meeting, and so was not bound by Law to appear before them, especially in a Corner, out of Termes, in an unusuall manner.

Sixtly in suspending me, notwithstanding my Appeal to your Sacred Majesty entered formerly at Dr. Duckes house at Cheswick by their owne Register before the said suspension, of which my Appeal, being registered in the Court, they ought all to have taken notice.

Seventhly, in suspending me against all Law and Justice, both from my Office and Benefice, in my absence, as if formerly lawfully convocated before them, and publishing blishing the said suspension in an unusuall manner in my Parish Church, and commaunding all Parsons Vicars, Curats, Clerkes and Ministers within the City of London to whom the said suspension is directed upon the Sunday next, and immediately following the receipt thereof, openly to publish and declare me to be suspended both from my Office and Benefice in their severall Parish Churches, when the Congregation shalbe then and there assembled to my intollerable disgrace and scandall.

Eightly in taxing and condemning me of Sedition, and other misdemeaners in their said suspension, before either heareing my Answere, or the Cause, Ninthly, in denying me a Copy of the Articles exhibited against me, to perfect this my Appeale to your Maiesty by, and to annex them thereunto and refusing to give me a Copy of the Acts of the Court and proceedings against me, though I have often sent for them.

These, my most Gratiouſe Soveraigne, are the grounds & reaſons of my Appeale from the ſaid Commissioners excepted againſt, to your Maiesty, my Soveraigne Lord and Patron, which together with my person and cause I here humbly proſtrate at your Maiesties roiall feet, imp'oring the justice of your roiall Throne (which is eſtablished by righteousneſſe) and that in ſo important a Cause of God and of the King, which I am certaine you will never deny to your mea- nest Subjeſt, much leſſe to your auncient Servant and dayly Orator to the Throne of Grace,

TO ALL THE TRVE-HEARTED NOBILITY
OF HIS MAIESTIES.

Most Honorable Privy
Councell.

MY HONORABLE LORDS,

M. Expect not here from mee the Court language or dialect ; it will not suit my person, much lesse the cause, which here I present to your Honors ; being such a cause, as I know not how the Court spirit will relish it, much lesse digest it. Let me therefore be bould, in the first place, to awaken those Nobler-spirits (if haply either layd and luld asleepe by the enchantments of these present times, or otherwise smothered under the heape of Court imployments, and the like) yea spirits heavenly inspired, which respiring a while, and retiring into the closet of your inmost Muse, may summon all your cares and powers to the sad and solid consideration of a cause so important, as (all circumstances and consequences well weighed) I dare say, the like hath not come upon the stage for these many yeares ; being a cause so much concerning the honor of God,

God, the peace, welfare, and honour of the King, the State of Religion and of the Commonweale by good Lawes established, the liberty of our consciences, and the honour of your Lordshippes, being Peeres of the Realme, Counsellors of State, and so pillars of the Kings Throane, of Religion, and of the Republique; all which doe now exceedingly suffer, and are terribly shaken, yea ready to fall to ground, if not prevented by some speedy and effectuall remedy. And whence should remedy be expected, but (next unto God) from his Sacred Majestie, and from his prudent and faithfull Counsellors of State, the great chariots and horsemen of Israel? To the end therefore, that his Majestie may take notice of so weighty a cause in hand, and lay it to heart, and strengthen his hands with Justice to vindicate his honor therein, I have humbly addressed my selfe to his Majestie both by petition and Appeal, and next to your Honors by way both of information and of sollicitation to give your eyes no sleepe, till you have effectually moved his Majesty to a serious consideration of such a cause, that so nearely concerneth the weale or woe of this Kingdome. Not that I take upon mee to judge of such high matters, but that his Majesty would bee pleased to weigh the cause in the just scales of his mature wisedome, and unpartiall judgement (all respect of persons layd aside) and also consult his sage Senators therein, that some thing may bee forthwith resolved on, and set on foot, for the preventing (if possible) of the imminent ruines both of Church and State: Nor let this motion be contemned, because it commes from so meane a person, as (in the worlds opinion) a poore Minister of Christ. Certainly, I am one of the watchmen of Israel (thought he meaneſt) yet one who hath obtineſt mercy to bee faithfull. Nor have I inconsideralry or rashly ruſhed upon this businesſe, but have been by a ſtrong hand drawne into it. Yea, my Lords, knowe assuredly, that Christ himſelfe, my great Lord & Maſter, hath called me forth to be a publicke witneſſe of this great Caufe, who will eertainely mainteyne both it and me againſt all the Adverſaries of God and of the King. And being ſo, doth not the ſame Lord Iefus Christ, the King of Kings, and Lord of Lords, call both the King, your Ho- nors and all his Nobles and worthies to lay to heart ſuch a caufe as this, if with the whole Realme yon will not be brought backe againe under the Papall and An- tichriſtian yoake, which, where ever it cōmeth, Lordeth, and tyra�izeth over ſoules, bodies, conſciences, goody, lawes, and Liberties? What? ſhall we ſee Religion a- vereturnd, the Lawes ouer lawed, our Liberties capti- ved, Christ Kingdome and the Kings throeane together undermined, and Antichriſts throeane exalted over us, and that by a Faſtion of Iefuited Poly-pragmatiques; and wee like heartleſſe doves ſitt trembling while the Hagards doe outdare us, as if we were made for nothing els, but for them to prey upon? Certainly if wee thus ſit us downe, and hide us under the ha- ches, while the Romiſh Pyrates doe ſurprise our Ship and cut our throathis, and caſt us overboard, what volumes will be ſufficient to Chronicle to posterity the baſeneſſe of Degenerate English Spirits, become to unchristianized, as to ſett up Antichriſt above Christ, and his annoyncted, and to ſuffer our ſelves to be cheated and noſe-wiped of our Religion, Lawes, Liberties, and all our Glory, and that by a ſorte of bould bould Romish * Mountebanks and Iuglers? * Such an Obiection. But some will object, what doth this Francis a concerne any of the Laity. Doe not matters of Religion properly pertaine to the Clergy? Have not they ^{re}, and ^{all} the power and Authority to determine such matters? ^{ther his} ^{re} Traffent fabrilia fabri, will they say. ^{sufficiale}

Answer. O egregious and pernicious error! The Clergy only (by which they meane the Church) to have power in matters of Religion to determine them? As if lay persons, who are Christians, be not members of the Church of Christ, & Gods peculiar people, and inheritance. Againe, what should become of our Parliamentary Lawes, by which our Religion hath been established, and the Popish abolished? Or what shal become of our Religion so established, if the Authority therof must now depend only upon the Clergy, & that Clergy for the most part dependes upon the authority of one, who exerciseth a kinde of Papall power in determining matters of Religion? Then how easy were it for one Arch-Bishop of Canterbury (if hee be possessed with a Papall spirit, and zeale for Popery, & should have great favour & power in Court) in one assembly of Prelates, at one clap to overthrow all our religion by Law established, and to set up againe the whole body of Popish superstition and Idolatry? Moreover, why should it be unlawfull for lay persons, Nobles, and others, to looke into matters of Religion within the limits of their calling, whether generall, as Christians, or speciall, as members of the common weale; when Clergy men dare (in affront to Gods word, to Christs Doctrine and example, & of his Apostles, to all Concils and Canons whatsoever) surfeited & take upon them to intermeddle in the managing even of the highest and weightiest affaires of Princes, States, and temporall Kingdomes, which is incompatible with the ministeriall function ? Againe, have not all Christians soules to save ? and are not those of Berea * indigitated in Scripture, as being more honourable then others, in searching the Scriptures daily whether those things were so, which even the Apostle Paul himself did teach ? And are not all Christians themselves enjoyed to try the spirites, whether they bee of God ? And the rather, because many false * Prophets are gone out into the world : 1. John. 4. 18. And are not all Christians so to know the Scriptures, as if any teach * otherwise ; yea though Angell from heaven, so hould him accursed, Gal. 1. 8. And are we not all Christians ? And if every Christian how meane soever should have a care of his owne soule, and not to pinne it upon any ones sleeve ; as not knowing whither hee may carry it ; how thuch more every great man . that is in high place , and hath greater gifts of knowledge, and is in * estimation for wisedome and glory ? It is a Iusuiticall principle , and that very mystery of iniquity , which supports Antichrists throane, to require or render blinde obedience to the dictates of the Church , alias , of the Pope , or Prelate , or Priest, then which servitude and spirituall bondage none in the world is more vile and base , none more perillous and pernicious. Thus the * blind leading the blinde , both fall into the ditch : thus the Pope carrying with himselfe millions of soules to be tormented with the great Divell , and none to reprove him for it (as theirwene Decretalls say) what amends will this bee to those soules thus miserably deceived by him ? So as this new doctrine of the Iesuites , so much cryed up now adayes in Pamphlets

phlets and Pulpits, cherby to captivate the faith and Conscience of all the Laity, yea and of all inferior Ministers to the dictates of the Metropolitan chair, is nothing els, but that prime Article of the Antichristian and Papall Creed, to overture all the Articles of our Christian Faith. And if this Jesuiticall Doctrine be creapt into the Court, and there beginne to Lord it, the Lord himselfe roote it up, and cast it out. But your Honors have not so learned Christ, as thus to come under Antichristis Babylonian yoke. And therefore in the name of Christ rouse up your noble & Christian zeale, & magnanimous courage for the truth, and now sticke close to God and to the King, in helping the Lord and his Annoynted against the Mighty, and earnestly contend for the maintenance of that Faith & Religion, which was once delivered to the Saints, and hath been sealed with the blood of so many holy Martyrs, and transmited downe to us from our worthy Progenitors, and whereof our gracious King is intituled the Defendor, and hath in sundry his royll Declarations and proclamations solemly protested, that he will never suffer the least innovation, and which also your Honors have bound your selves not only as Christians in your Baptisme, but as Counsellors and Statesmen by Oath to mainteyne, not suffering any forraign or other exorbitant and usurped power to be exalted over this Land in any other Jurisdiction Ecclesiasticall, then is by the Law annexed to the Imperiall Crowne of this Realme. To conclude, the cause both of my petition and Appeal to his Majesty, is this, That usurpers and Innovators of Religion, and of the Lawes of the Land, being occassionallly and justly charged by me in my sermons (as heare your Honors Honors may see) may be inquired on, & called to a strict account. And the rather whē now they shew by their recrimination in the articles objected against me, how ready they are openly upon the stage to maintaine with an high hand those their usurpations & Innovatiōs; Which, as it cannot be without impiety, so much as once imagined, that his Majesty would ever countenance, against so many solemn protestations to the contrary: So it cannot be without horror conceived, into what devou-ting pulses they must needs precipitate this otherwise goodly State, if with Gods good help the King & State loyntly and speedily put not to their maine strength to stay it. All the world feeth in what a distracted estate things doe stand, and what a cloude of divine displeasure hangs over us, how ill wee thrive in our affaires how heavily the chariots are driven. And can we wonder but that God should blast all our beauty and glory, if men of Beliall, of that lawlesse one, be suffered to make bavocke of Chists Kingdome, to destroy the true Religion and to set up againe Popish superstition and idolatry over the Land: Certainly, if such he suffered to goe on thus, as they doe, God must needs destroy us. Therefore my honorable Lords, give me leave againe and againe to presse this upon your Honors, as a mayne service which you owe both to God, to the King, to Religion, and so to your Posterities, and to the whole State that your Honors will use your best meanes throughly to acquaint and possesse the King with this weighty busynesse; That upon the sight thereof his wisedome, directed by Gods spirit, may finde out a speedy course for the removing of those intollerable greivances under which his whole Kingdome groaneth, ready ready to sinke, and to breath out its last. And what ever the present necessities be, this I am perswaded of, that never could a fayrer opportunity be taken, if well followed, to vindicate his Maiesties honor, and to make him the most happy & glorious King in Christendome, when closing with God and with his good people, hee shoulde at least reduce into order the troublers of Israel. Now the Lord our God fill your heroical hearts with understanding, zeale and courage, that you may acquitte your selfes as good Christians towards God, Faithfull Counsellors to the King, and true Patrons of the true Religion, and so strong pillars of the State, in this cause of God and of the King. That so after many honorable dayes heere, you may be crowned with eternal glory in the Kindome of heaven, which is the prayer of

TO THE REVEREND

And Learned

I V D G E S.

RIGHT WORSHIPFULL,

RECEIVE Your place and office of Iudicatur to which God and the King have called you, ingageth you to doe justice to all impartially, as being bound thereunto both by law, and conscience. By law: For, * Justice shall not be sold, deferred, nor denied to any man. And, * No Commandement under the great or little scale shall disturbance or delay justice, or right in any point.
 And, the Justices of both bensches, A sise &c. Shall doe right to all men, without regard of letters, writs, or Commaundments &c. Secondly, by conscience, For the law prescribes, this Oath, unto you. Ye shall sweare, that well and lawfully ye shall serve our soveraigne Lord the King and his poeple in the Office of Justice and that lawfully ye shall counsell the King in his busynesse ye shall doe even Law and Execution of Right to all his Subiects rich and poore without having regard to any person &c. and in case that any of what estate or condition they be, come before you in your sessions &c. to disturbance the execution of the Common law, or to menace the people, that thay may not pursue the

the law, that you doe their bodies to be arrested, and put in prison. And in case they be such that ye may not arrest them, that ye certify the King of their names, and of their misprision basly, so that he may thereof ordaine a convenient remedy; and that yee deny to no man common right by the Kings letters, nor none other mans, nor for none other cause. And in case any letters come to you contrary to the law, that ye do nothing by such letters, but certify the King thereof, & goe forth to do the Law notwithstanding the same letters. And in case ye be from hence-forth found in default in any of the points aforesaid, ye shall be at the Kings will of body, Lands, and goods thereof to be done, as shall please Him, as God you helpe &c.

Now these things I recite (most Learned Judges) not as if you were ignorant of them, or had altogether forgotten them, but that the remembrance of them might the better prepare you to doe justice in a cause which here I present unto you. And yet when I doe but name the cause, namely for God and the King, what needs any other incitement to doe justice, then your owne propensity? In this case, which of you will not profess to be for God and the King? Well. I take it for graunted, that you are and wilbe for God and the King. Onely give me leave in a word to intimate, what it is to be for God and the King. First for God. Christ saith to persecuting Saul, Why persecutest thou me? Yet he persecuted not Christ's Person, but his members and Ministers. And to his Disciples he saith, He that honoreth you, honoreth me; and he that despiseth you despiseth me. Are you then for Christ? Then you must be for his Ministers, to doe them justice in their just cause. If so, than what meaneth the blearing of the sheep, the grievous complaint of Gods Ministers in many places of this land, who are unjustly oppressed, suspended, excommunicated, outed of their livings, and so themselves & families undone in their worldly estate? You will say, why doe they not complaine to us? If they doe not, it is because so ne of them have done so, and yet found little or cold relief, and because the common rumour goeth, that the course of Justice is stopt in such cases, so as none dare plead their cause, or open their mouths against the Prelates. But I hope better. And if none be found to plead this cause of God, I hope your Worships will give me leave (according to the right of law) to plead it, and your selves will give true judgement. For as I am Christis Minister, so I am the Kings faithfull subject, & crave justice at your hands according to the Kings lawes, and oathes. Yea his Sacred Majestie himselfe hath declared his will to this purpose, in the Petition of Right, saying, The * King willeth that Right be done, according to the Lawes and customes of the Realme; And, that the Statutes be put in due execution, that his Subiects may have no cause to complaine of any wrong, or oppressions, contrary to their just Rights and Liberties: to the preservation whereof he holds himselfe in conscience as well obliged, as of His Prerogative. And in Person thus: I assure you my Maximo is, that the Peoples Liberties strengthens the Kings Prerogative, & the Kings Prerogative is to defend the Peoples Liberties. This being so, the Kings Prerogative, his just lawes, & the Peoples liberties, are so combined together that they must be altogether preserved intire, so neither can you be so for God, but you must be also for the true Religion, & for his faithfull Ministers: nor secondy so for the King but you must be also for his Lawes, and his peoples rights & liberties, sith the King and his people make one politick body; and hee cannot love the Head, who seekes to hurt the members ; or who setteth the Head against the members , or who for advancing the Head, destroyes the members ; or who maketh a Schisme and rent betweene the Head and the members. And are not the Lawes of the Kingdome the ligaments, which fasten and unite the Head and members, the King & his people together? It is your charge to see that these ligaments bee not dissolved , but preserved safe and sound : else the whole , both Head and bodie, (of which your selves and Posterity are members) must needs suffer together. O then , what a waughty charge lyes upon your shoulders at this time, when the whole frame both of the Republick and Religion so shaketh, as it threateth sudden ruine , if the Lawes, whereon they are established , bee not maintained in their full strength and vigour ? Doe not your Wisedomes see a new generation of Innovators risen up in this Land , who usurping and practising a Papall and Antichristian Power and Injunction , exempted from the Kings Lawes , and not depending (as they pretend , and profess) on the Kings sole Peticorative and Authority, doe thereby beginne to overtoppe the Royall Throne , and trample the Lawes, Liberties , and just rights of the Kings Subiects under their feet ? What meaneth that difficulty of obtaining of Prohibitions now adayes whereby the Kings innocent Subiects should be relieved against their unjust molestations & oppressions in the Ecclesiasticall Court and high Comissions ? What meaneth that consternation of spirit among Lawyers, that few or none can be found to plead a cause, be it never so just, against an oppressing Prelate & are either an menaced or imprisoned if they do it ? What meaneth that timidity in Ministers & people, who chuse rather to sit down with losse of al, even of the cause of religion it selfe, then go to law, against a Prelate ?

What meaneth that lawlesse insolency and boldnesse of many Prelates ? who against law and conscience, against the expresse Doctrines of our Church, and against Gods word , the ground and rule of our Faith and Religion , dare of their owne heads bring in, sett up in Churches , and impose upon Ministers new rites and ceremonies/contrary to the Act of Parliament before the Communion Booke) Altars, Images, and Crucifixes , with sundry superstitious gestures of bowing, ducking, & standing up, with other notorious innovations (as even your selves cannot be altogether ignorant of, and may further in one view behold in those sermons following) suspending, excommunicating , and outing those Ministers, that will not,dare not conforme unto them. What meaneth that Antichristian pride, & lawlesse power in vexing & converteng the Kings good subje&ts, for observing the Kings Lawes, and executing of iustice upon, or lawfully suing and indicting at the Common law, transgessors of the same by their bold innovations ? the very hight of Antichristian tyranny, sedicion and rebellion. I beseech your Lordships well to examine the originall roote and cause of all these insolent irregularities and illegalities , which not only tend to , but hasten on inevitable ruine both to the Church and state , if not spedily prevented ? And so vindicate yourselves herein ; as that you may cleare yourselves from being the prime and principall causes of all the mischiefs and maladies in the land, by either fearing denying, or delaying to doe iustice upon and against these insolent Innovators. Have we not the best King in Christendom who hath so frequently & solemnly, as in the late Petition of right, so in his royll * Declaration

For Gods sake therefore, sith his Majesty hath committed, to you the sword of Justice, draw it forth to defend the lawes ~~as-~~ gainst such Innovators, who (as much as in them lyeth) divide between the King & his people. Your selves know better then I can tell you that if there be oppressions in the Common weale, especially against the ordinary Course of the Lawes, and against the Liberties of the subiect established by law, how hardly it is digested, and what dangerous discontents it may breed: how much more perillous are such alterations of religion, which would by a strong hand, and that after so long and cleare light of the Ghospell, bring us backe againe under an Antichristian yoake, which tyranizeth over the conscience, soule, body, goods, and liberties. poy- soning

Up therefore, and play the men; discharge that great trust, which the King hath repos'd in you which your S-Oaths require of you, which all the good people of the Land expect of you, and which Christ himselfe the great Judge of quicke and dead will call you to a strict account for, which you know not how soone hee may doe; for though you be as gods, yee shall dye like men, and fall like one of the Princes. Therefore, as Christ saith, Be instruſtled, yee Judges of the earth: ſcare and tremble before this great God: Kiffe the Sonne, leaſt he be angry, and yee periſh from the way: when his wrath is kindled but a little: Blessed are all they that put their truſt in him. Which that you may be, it ſhall be the prayer of
